Investing in Ukraine's Reconstruction: Opportunities for Greek Businesses

THURSDAY 27 FEBRUARY 2025
14:00 TO 17:00 EET

KING GEORGE HOTEL, ATHENS

The Tony Blair Institute for Global Change, the Kyiv School of Economics and SEV Hellenic Federation of Enterprises would like to invite you to our upcoming business forum, Investing in Ukraine's Reconstruction: Opportunities for Greek Businesses. The forum will take place on Thursday 27 February at the King George Hotel, Athens, under the auspices of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Ukraine's reconstruction represents the largest economic project in Europe, with unparalleled opportunities for businesses ready to contribute. The forum will showcase opportunities in Ukraine's dynamic investment landscape and equip Greek businesses with the insights and practical knowledge to successfully navigate and capitalise on them.

Investing in Ukraine's Reconstruction: Opportunities for Greek Businesses

To this end it will bring together business and policy leaders to share on-the-ground insights and actionable guidance on doing business in Ukraine. Among other topics, the forum will offer the opportunity to discuss:

- the opportunities and risks of investing in Ukraine now, together with the perspectives of businesses that have been successfully conducting business during the war
- the instruments available to investors (for example, incentives and guarantees), with a focus on the EU Investment Framework
- practical resources for identifying project opportunities in key sectors and finding out about financing opportunities

RSVP: Please confirm your attendance via this link by 20 February to ensure your participation in the event. Kindly note that, as seating in the venue is limited, we will confirm your in-person attendance on 21 February, or otherwise circulate an online link.

Please note: All discussions will take place in English. For any issues with RSVP or additional information on the summit, please contact Sofia Frantzeskaki (s.frantzeskaki@institute.global).
